

Impeachment Charges Go To House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Proclaiming that President Nixon "warrants impeachment and removal from office," the House Judiciary Committee has ended its historic inquiry with a three-part resolution to be sent to the House.

In it the committee recommends Nixon's impeachment for obstructing justice, misuse of his powers and failing to obey its committee subpoenas for evidence.

Debate in the House will begin in about two weeks.

The three articles would redefine and limit the power of the executive. They are the first to be sent to the House floor since President Andrew Johnson's impeachment during the Civil War reconstruction period more than a century ago.

The third impeachment article relating to the subpoenas was approved Tuesday by a narrow 21-17 vote.

The three articles of impeachment charge Nixon with "high crimes and misdemeanors" by:

—Obstructing justice in covering up the Watergate affair, the break-in of Democratic national headquarters June 17, 1972, once described by a White House spokesman as just a "third-rate burglary."

—Abusing his powers through misuse of federal agents and agencies to violate constitutional rights of citizens by wiretapping, income tax audits and other activities.

—Refusing to comply with committee subpoenas for 147 tape-recorded conversations and other material sought as evidence by the inquiry.

Before the committee concluded its inquiry, it rejected as impeachable offenses proposed articles recommending impeachment of concealing the bombing of Cambodia from Congress, and perpetrating tax fraud by underpaying his income taxes. Both were defeated 26-12.

The committee's recommendations first must face the formality of passing through the House Rules Committee before making their way to the House floor.

A majority vote is needed in the House to impeach the President. The Senate then would conduct a trial, in which a two-thirds majority would be needed to convict and remove Nixon from office.

The House committee's proceedings ended with a rap from the gavel of Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. and his ruling that "This concludes the work of the committee."

As he filed out of the committee room, Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., Nixon's leading defender during the six days of debate and voting on the impeachment articles said: "At the moment, I would have to say the odds are that the House would pass them."

The final day of the committee's deliberations saw a break-down in the bipartisan coalition that adopted the first two articles by votes of 27 to 11 and 28 to 10. The committee has 21 Democrats and 17 Republicans, all lawyers.

Although the second-ranking Republican, Rep. Robert McClory, R-

Ill., offered the article dealing with subpoenas, it won the support of only one other Republican, Rep. Lawrence Hogan of Maryland. Hogan was the only Republican to vote for all three articles adopted.

Rep. Thomas Railsback, R-Ill., a leader in the bipartisan effort to pass the first two articles, accused the majority of engaging in "political overkill" in trying for more articles.

When the Cambodian bombing and tax fraud articles were called up, Railsback said the Democrats were endangering Republican support on the floor for any articles. He said later the defeat of the articles had removed that danger.

In urging adoption of Article III, McClory said Nixon's refusal to comply with eight committee subpoenas for 147 taped conversations was an act of "stonewalling" that threatened the impeachment process itself.

And Hogan said it raised the most important issue in the inquiry. "If we do not pass this article the whole impeachment process becomes meaningless," he said.

But other Republicans, although they had supported the issuing of the subpoenas, said Nixon's failure to comply with them was not a serious enough offense to warrant impeachment by itself.

Rep. William S. Cohen, R-Maine, said he would support a move on the House floor to add Nixon's failure to comply to either the obstruction of justice or the abuse of power articles, (Continued on Page 12)

Other attractions at the fair that will be held today include 4-H food judging at 3 p.m., harness racing at 4:30, the popular pet parade at 5, and the Central Ohio Ayshire Southern Show.

Thursday morning has the Junior Fair sheep livestock judging and the Junior Fair dairy show at 8:30 a.m., the home economics advanced food judging at 9 a.m., and the 4-H tractor operator's contest at 10 a.m.

Horseshoes will fill the air during the remainder of the fair, and they won't be on the feet of harness animals.

Pitch-offs in the horseshoe throwing contest will be held Thursday and Friday nights at the pits beside the 4-H and Grange Building.

Qualifying rounds will be hurled tonight starting at 5 p.m.

Drivers will be working for OSTPA and NTPA points in the popular tractor pull contests slated tonight at 7 and Thursday at 1 p.m. and 7 at the race track.

Extra bleacher seats have been added on the south side of the track for spectators attending the pull.

It was a perfect day for the races. A cool breeze fanned the railbirds and those fans seated in the grandstand, but the racing action was hot and heavy. Post time today is 4:30 p.m. and for anybody with an ounce of sporting blood they are truly exciting.

The announcer is Phil Mauger, a 5-term mayor of Mt. Vernon which he claims as home though he spends a lot of time in Lexington, Ky., nowadays. Mauger is an announcer with Grand Circuit experience and keeps the fans expertly posted on the race as it is in progress.

Tom Ebenhack is serving as track veterinary. An experienced horseman, Tom graduated from Ohio State this year and this summer is working at Scioto Downs as track vet.

He is the son of the late Emmett Ebenhack and Martha Ebenhack. He helped his father train for many years and even drove himself. Emmett was one of the finer drivers and trainers in Ohio and a real gentleman of the sport.

The outrider Tuesday was Carolyn Roundhouse, riding Sweetheart's Masterpiece. Today it will be Elizabeth Schumm on Sir Errett. The starting gate is Claire Baker's, Robert Steele is the presiding judge with Glenn McCoy and Steve Jones serving as his associates and the clerks are the Misses Ann and Sara Short. Race Secretary is John Fissell. He, McCoy and Harlow Arledge are responsible for the quality races at the fair. Timing is in the capable hands of Neil Frazier, Charles Carle and Alva May.

Mauger complimented the speed committee and the fair board on the condition of the track and grounds this year.

Turks, Greeks Reach Accord On Cyprus

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Greece and Turkey have signed a military disengagement agreement for Cyprus providing for indefinite partition of the island, the indefinite presence of the Turkish invasion force and a United Nations buffer zone around the territory occupied by the Turks.

The agreement signed by the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey on Tuesday after six days of negotiations also put no brake on the landing of foreign troops or supplies on Cyprus.

A spokesman for the United Nations peacekeeping force reported the Turks brought in more reinforcements on Tuesday, and a high-ranking Western diplomat in Nicosia estimated the Turkish force at 40,000 men and 300 tanks.

The three governments agreed to begin further talks in Geneva on Aug. 8 to restore constitutional government to Cyprus. They said representatives of the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities would join two days later, and Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros said the Greek Cypriots would be represented by their present president, Glafcos Clerides, not by ousted President Makarios.

Vice President Rauf Denkash, the unchallenged leader of the Turkish Cypriots, will represent them, Mavros said.

Although Turkey gave up nothing, Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis said he was satisfied with the agreement because it "puts an end to hostilities" and "can mark the starting point of a fair settlement of the Cyprus issue."

Archbishop Makarios complained that the provision concerning Turkish withdrawal was "very vague." Clerides was not available for comment, but initial reaction among the Greek Cypriots in Nicosia was suspicious.

The agreement provided that:

1. The opposing military forces will not extend their territory beyond the limits held Tuesday night when the agreement was signed;

2. A security zone manned by U.N. forces will be established around the enclave of approximately 200 square miles seized by the Turkish invasion force on the north coast, including the port of Kyrenia;

3. All Greek and Greek Cypriot forces in Turkish enclaves will be evacuated immediately, and U.N. forces will protect the enclaves;

4. U.N. forces will protect all other Turkish enclaves as well as villages containing both Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The agreement also provided for the release or exchange as soon as possible of all "military personnel and civilians detained as a result of the recent hostilities."

The provision concerning withdrawal of foreign forces states that "within the framework of a just and lasting solution acceptable to all parties concerned and as peace, security and mutual confidence are established in the Republic of Cyprus, measures should be elaborated which will lead to the timely and phased reduction of the number of armed forces and the amounts of armaments, munitions and other war material in the Republic of Cyprus."

Debate Touches Future Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — In its wordy windup, the House Judiciary Committee got in some debate that will affect the kind of impeachment case it takes to the House floor and possibly the Senate and may touch other presidents far into the future.

The committee considered three articles of impeachment Tuesday and adopted only one, an item recommending that President Nixon be impeached for refusing to turn over evidence it has subpoenaed.

Although it passed by only a 21-17 margin and faces rough going in the House, the subpoena article involves probably the most important constitutional issue of the impeachment controversy.

However it turns out on the floor or in a Senate trial, the subpoena question ultimately will write new constitutional law that will tell presidents just how valid the doctrine of executive privilege is in resisting impeachment.

But two other articles—Cambodian bombing and the President's income taxes—probably are just as important for the fact that they didn't pass.

Although both items were debated at length, they were defeated with solid Republican opposition and considerable Democratic defection.

Proponents of the articles seeking impeachment for secret 1969 bombing in Cambodia and the President's underpayment of income taxes by more than $400,000 cover the past four years knew they would lose before they started, but they pressed on for tactical reasons.

The tax question particularly, debated in prime television time, allowed impeachment forces to fully explore one of the subjects shown by the polls to be most sensitive to the American people. If it did not pass, it was nonetheless expected to make the viewing audience just a little more susceptible to impeachment fever.

But Cambodia and taxes, and to a degree subpoenas, served another important function—allowing committee members who have been against the President on key votes since last Wednesday to vote for him in a situation where it couldn't matter less.

This appearance of fairness, of voting according to the issue and not a blanket bias, is important for most members of Congress in an election year in which they face one of history's most difficult decisions. Only members with the strongest constituency support voted a straight party line this past week.

Many House members also have let it be known that they would be less inclined to vote impeachment if the committee recommended what they considered frivolous, patently partisan, or unsubstantiated charges.

Many considered Cambodia, taxes and impoundment of funds in this category. Consequently, the impeachment leaders had no intention of letting them get to the floor. The latter was not even proposed in the six days of formal debate.

The subpoena charge, although controversial, is a different matter. It poses crucial and fundamental questions and was proposed by the second-ranking Republican member of the committee.

President Nixon raised in this case the doctrine of executive privilege to deny the committee evidence it said it needed to decide whether to impeach.

The committee had rejected the idea of taking the question to the courts—as had Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski who won his case. Instead, it decided to make Nixon's rejection of its subpoenas one of the articles against him.

If the committee view on this charge prevails and Nixon should be turned from office, or even sent to trial in the Senate, it would set a precedent that could last for years.

If, on the other hand, the article is defeated it would mean executive privilege has won in the impeachment arena what it lost in the courts.

It then would become accepted constitutional insulation between a President and his congressional critics at least until some future Supreme Court rules otherwise. No impeachment inquiry in the near future would be likely to overturn a negative precedent set now, if history is any guide.

The Cambodian bombing involved similar questions of constitutional interpretation, which both Congress and the Supreme Court failed to address directly throughout the Indochina war: Questions of a president's power to wage war without formal congressional approval.

But the issues here were clouded. There was evidence that at least some members of Congress were told of the secret bombing, and this raised questions as to their behavior in going along with a secret deal. There also was mention of the new War Powers Resolution that restricts presidential war making.

Gasoline Shortage Thing Of The Past?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gasoline shortage? Don't tell that to dealer Art Paul. He's out there pumping into the night.

"Sell, sell, sell—that's what the companies are telling us now," said Paul, taking a break Tuesday night at his Los Angeles station to comment in his capacity as president of the Gasoline Retailers Association of Southern California.

He is among some dealers around the country who report that even though television commercials are still plugging conservation of gasoline, the companies are filling service station storage tanks with gasoline allocations equal to or exceeding those of 1972.

"Every dealer in Southern California is getting as much or more than '72," Paul claimed. He said that to his knowledge, in Southern California, Mobil is supplying 105 per cent and Standard 109 per cent of 1972 deliveries.

Dealers who liked the idea of limiting hours to get home for dinner or even take a Sunday off for fishing are finding themselves back in the thick of competitive sales.

Reports from Southern California are echoed at least in Chicago and Miami, according to survey by The Associated Press. Some oil companies admit the accounts of higher supplies and selling pressure are accurate.

A Union Oil spokesman put it this way: "We have not forced the dealers to stay open longer. We have requested them to return to the operating hours they had prior to the problems of last winter and early this year. The reason is that more gasoline is available now and we want to be able to take care of the motoring public."

In Maryland, dealers said deliveries were running from a low of 80 per cent to a high of 120 per cent of 1972 levels. Arkansas dealers said they were getting about 90 per cent of 1972 allocations.

The American Petroleum Institute, an industry trade organization, said in Washington that gasoline stocks are slightly higher than a year ago, while demand is slightly lower.

2 Brothers Set Reunion After Decades

KINGS MILLS, Ohio (AP) — Two brothers separated more than 30 years ago as children will be reunited for the first time today at Kings Island.

Earl Carter, 32, of Middletown, and John Carter, 40, of Indianapolis, Ind., were separated when their mother died after Earl's birth. They still do not know where their two sisters, Edna and Kathryn, are.

Glenn Reynolds of Gratis, Ohio, helped reunite the two men after he heard Earl tell a waitress his family history.

Reynolds said Earl was too moved at the prospect of seeing his brother to talk with newsmen himself.

Reynolds said when he heard the story he offered to help Earl locate his brother.

Reynolds said he called a long distance operator, explained the story and said that Earl thought his missing brother lived in the Indianapolis area.

The operator, said Reynolds, found 23 John Carter's listed. The first one she called didn't answer. The second one did—and was the right house.

The operator did not charge for either call Reynolds said.

Reynolds said both brothers cried over the phone.

Reynolds said Earl was reared by an aunt and uncle and doesn't know where his father is. The other three children were raised in a Xenia orphanage, Reynolds said.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices were mixed in early trading today, buoyed a bit by a carry-over of some technical strength that developed late Tuesday.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was about unchanged and advancing and declining stocks were even on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers are cautious about trading today, with some foreseeing a technical rise from slow erosion of late, with others contending that the market is bound to sink under the weight of the gloomy economic climate.

Tuesday brokers noted a further rise in commodity prices resulting from drought conditions in the Midwest, and government predictions that inflation would not slow during the second half as sharply as they had been anticipated.

Active stocks in early trading on the Big Board were Avon Products, steady at 30, Madison Fund, off 1/4 at 7 3/4, and Bethlehem Steel, up 1/4 at 30 1/4.

Bethlehem announced second quarter net income of $1.60 a share, versus $1.32 a share in the like period of last year. The steel maker also upped its quarterly dividend to 50 cents a common share.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones average closed off 5.32 at 765.57. The index has now lost over 40 points in the last four trading sessions.

Clear Skies Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generally fair skies and mild temperatures across most of the nation today were marred by thundershowers along the coasts and continued hot weather in the desert Southwest.

Greatest rainfall splashed along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts in warm, humid air. Showers also were widely scattered through the Great Lakes, northern Plains and Great Basin.

Up to an inch of rain fell overnight at Loring Air Force Base in Maine; Rocky Mount, N.C.; Ellington Air Force Base in Texas and Yucca Flat, Nev.

Fog moved off the Pacific Ocean to shroud the coastal valleys of California early today. Cool air blanketed much of the midcontinent from the Plains to the Great Lakes and into the Ohio Valley.

CAR-TRUCK ACCIDENT—Three persons received minor injuries when a semi-truck driven by Carl V. Schulze, 60, Columbus, struck a car in the rear, driven by Vicki J. Wiget, 24, Harrisburg, on Route 62 at Harrisburg-Fairfield Road. Ms. Wiget and her two children were treated at Children's Hospital, Columbus.

Car-Truck Mishap Injures 3

A twenty-four-year-old mother and her two children received injuries in a car-truck accident on Route 62 11:15 a.m. Tuesday.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Dewey, Vicki J. Wiget, 24, Harrisburg, was headed north on Route 62 when a semi-truck, driven by Carl V. Schulze, 60, Columbus, also driving north, struck the car in the rear.

Ms. Wiget had stopped to yield to south bound traffic in order to make a left onto Harrisburg-Fairfield Road, at the time of the impact.

Schulze went off the right side of the roadway striking a guardrail trying to avoid hitting the Wiget vehicle.

Dewey cited Schulze for failure to maintain an assured clear distance ahead.

Ms. Wiget was treated and released at Children's Hospital for whiplash; Kelly Deon, 2, checked and released with no injuries; and Eddie Dean, 4, admitted with lacerations and contusions to the scalp and possible internal injuries.

Heating Problem

With a new heating season approaching with the speed of lightning—and this isn't figuratively speaking—the fuel outlook for the colder months cannot be described as rosy.

Electric rates are going up rapidly in many areas, fuel oil hasn't receded from its highest price level in history, the price of coal will go up, etc.

There was much talk during the Arab oil boycott about the necessity of discovering new sources of energy—such as solar energy—but little has been heard of this since oil started flowing at black market prices.

The cost of heat has become intolerable, and unless something can be done about it many people will suffer if there is a sudden onslaught of unusual cold weather and it lasts for a protracted period.

If it hasn't become obvious that Arab oil is not the answer to the country's heating problem, it is likely to become so before the end of another winter.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 31st, the 212th day of 1974. There are 153 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette offered his services to the rebelling American colonies and was commissioned a major general in the Continental Army.

On this date:

In 1790, the U.S. government issued its first patent—to Samuel Hopkins of Vermont for a process in making potash.

In 1877, Thomas Edison took out an early patent leading to his development of the phonograph.

In 1917, the World War I battle of Flanders began.

In 1945, a French leader during Germany's World War Two occupation of France, Pierre Laval, surrendered to Allied authorities in Austria.

In 1948, as 900 airplanes flew overhead, President Harry Truman dedicated New York's new international airport at Idlewild Field.

Ten years ago: The U.S. Ranger Seven spacecraft transmitted to earth the first closeup pictures of the moon, and scientists hailed the achievement as the greatest advance in lunar astronomy since Galileo.

Five years ago: President Nixon was in India on an Asian tour.

One year ago: A jetliner crashed in a heavy fog at Boston's Logan Airport, killing 88 of the 89 persons aboard.

Today's birthdays: Former big league baseball manager Hank Bauer is 52. Public opinion analyst Elmo Roper is 74.

Thought for today: There's one consolation in inflation: The money you haven't got is not worth as much as it used to be—anonymous.

Editions Of The Past

15 YEARS AGO

About 75,000 visitors were expected to jam the Pickaway County Fairgrounds during the 1959 edition of the fair. Don Courtwright was president of the Agricultural Society.

Robert H. Huffer was elected president of the Pickaway County Bar Association, replacing Richard Penn. He was city solicitor of Circleville.

A heavy docket necessitated calling a special session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury. Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer said there were 31 cases to be heard.

The Pickaway County sweet corn season was in full swing with three canning factories running at full blast. The Winorr, Esmeralda, and Crites Canning Co. started packing yellow corn.

The Circleville Fire Department had a record-breaking month answering calls in July. The department responded to 21 fire calls and sent out the emergency ambulance 34 times.

Cincinnati Hog Market To Close

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—E. Kahn's Sons, Inc., and the Cincinnati Union Stock Yard Co. Monday announced that the hog market in Cincinnati will be closed Oct. 1.

The agreement calls for Kahn's, a Cincinnati meat packing firm adjacent to the stockyards, to purchase 10 of the yards' 32 acres for expansion of its plant. Sale price was set at $650,000.

The firm will then purchase hogs directly from farmers. The Cincinnati Union Stock Yards Co. will retain eight acres to handle cattle and sheep. The remaining 14 acres will be used for industrial development, the stockyard firm said.

Aboard The Sea Venture

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

ABOARD M-S SEA VENTURE, HAMILTON, BERMUDA — Bright and early on the afternoon of our wedding anniversary, my wife dropped an empty six-pack on my head, awakening me.

"Up and at 'em, Charles Atlas." I think she shouted or was it Irving Atlas? Anyway, she was rustling a copy of the ship's periodical, "Today's Activities." And quoting from same.

"So far today you've blown the following jolly events," she said. "You missed the seven a.m. early birds coffee, tea — Sun Deck Lido. Then at nine o'clock you blew Slimnastics with Della — meet outside gymnasium. At nine-thirty, you didn't show up for the open Ping Pong on the lounge deck aft, starboard side, and fifteen minutes later you were snoozing when cruise director Tom Billinton gave his lecture on Bermuda in the auditorium. At eleven forty-five you double-faulted by missing both the showing of the U.S. Customs information film and the trap shooting, boat deck aft. By the way, when was the last time you shot a trap?"

The crazed woman continued before I could tell her that I don't like the taste of trap, or even skeet.

"As of now, Buster, you've also blown the opening of the cruise office on the Atlantic deck, and the complimentary dance class with Doug and Sandy on the lounge deck at eleven. Or you could have heard the bridge lecture by Mr. Charles Whitebrook, on the lounge deck, or had some nice bouillon on the sun deck Lido," she reprimanded.

I rolled over like a beach whale and asked her a simple question: "When am I being buried at sea?"

"Sorry," she said. "That can't happen until the mass in the auditorium at five o'clock this afternoon. You'll just have to wait your turn. In the meantime, while you lay there dreaming about Nita Naldi, you missed the eleven-fifteen special, fun at the pool — prizes. Not to mention the golf lesson in the auditorium at twelve forty-five by the ship's pro, a fine golfer named Paul Smith from Orange, Connecticut."

"Orange is in New Jersey and Southern California," I mumbled thickly.

"That's where you're wrong again," my wife said. "Now here are some other things you missed. You take lousy pictures with our fool-proof camera, the Brownie 2-A, but you've just missed the camera clinic in the Galaxy Lounge, sun deck forward, and right after that you blew the second appearance of Mr. Whitebrook. On top of that, you were still asleep at two forty-five when the Bingo started in the Sea Lounge, lounge deck, and, worse than that, you missed the three-fifteen lecture on investments by the investments expert of Merrill Lynch, Mr. Arnold Marshall, in the Music Room, lounge deck."

"What did those other partners in that firm do with Mr. Bean?" I grumbled sleepily. "Has anybody tried grappling hooks in the East River?"

"I don't know what you're talking about," my wife said. "I'm just trying to tell you what you've missed so far today on this, our restful anniversary trip. So I'll go on with the program, and please show more respect for it. There was horse racing at three-fifteen on the sun deck Lido, followed by afternoon tea and the fashion show, then the film short 'Beautiful Bermuda.' No smoking during the movie. Now it's time for mass, followed by the captain's 'Welcome Aboard' champagne party."

That did it. I leaped down from my bunk as if torpedoed, shaved, showered, and made it to St. Auditorium's on time. Mass was celebrated by a nice priest named Frank Palermo, on loan from that famous old American seaport, Lamar,

In Tight Shoes

By JIM BISHOP

GENEVA — The sun is high and white at noon. The Alps rise timidly behind the Hotel President until they are far from the mirror of the big lake. Then they thumb their arthritic granite fingers at the pale sky. An old side-wheeler casts no shadow, but merrymakers aboard can be heard singing lieder when the breeze is right.

We are joyful and dead. Switzerland is special, but the National Airlines flight from Miami to London has anesthetized the body and draped a voile curtain across the mind. Our thinking is back at Nova Scotia where the 747 swam in a jet stream at 746 miles per hour, one mile an hour less than its number.

Heathrow Airport is a people blender, spinning with Hindus, Scandinavians, Italians, Irish and demure little Japanese prostitutes who sit on benches and seldom fly. Heathrow is O'Hare with an accent.

The British Tridents take wing like buses. They come in, dump people, fuel up, empty their ashtrays and lift off to Oslo, Paris, Stockholm, Rome, Berlin — the mosquito bites of Europe. The London sky is dark and low and the jet lifts its nose to plunge into gray milk and emerge into sunlight. Clouds, like the faces of men, are bright and innocent on top. Geneva: 70 minutes.

Switzerland is a fairy-tale told by Santa Claus. It is an artificial rock garden. The people speak three languages, German, French and Italian. Since 1870, three wars have burned the edges of their borders but the people milk their cows, pitch hay, make watches and cheese and shake their heads in wonderment at a mad world.

Kelly and I are looking out the French windows at the blinding snow on the peaks. We whisper, but we do not hear each other. Both brains are candlelit.

The sheets are cool on hot skin. There is a sensation of being shot without hearing the explosion or feeling the pain. No blindfold, no last cigarette, just the sweet swimming in a confetti of thought.

This is the sixth trip to Europe and, I am certain, the last. We have had it, and Europe has had us. We try to avoid big cities. Paris hates France. It dedicates its monuments and museums to itself. The thieves, strangely, are behind the shop counters.

Rome is the best place to commit a sin and the best in which to repent. Popes, puritans, pimps, prostitutes and prosciutto. Istanbul is a hundred thousand 1934 Chryslers and the Blue Mosque. For tourists, it's a red fez and a belly dancer. For Turks, it is back-breaking manual labor and tiny rooms with 10-watt bulbs.

Vienna is a sidewalk cafe with foreign newspapers strung on wooden racks. It's a chocolate-colored Danube, a damp cellar muddled with old wine. Berlin is a legless soldier in a baby carriage, a foamy beer, a dim Swastika scrubbed from the soul.

This trip will be different. We will ride the back roads, be the invited guests of the rich, and search for the truth about potables: Chartreuse, Cognac and Scotch. We will sip, I hope, in old distilleries and try to learn why the distillers of Europe exude the same snobbish pride that Detroit has for other products: Cadillac, Lincoln Mark Four, and Chrysler Imperial.

It is evening. The heads come up off pillows slowly. A thin mist of rain lights on tiptoe in geranium boxes. Where are we? What are we? My beautiful blonde with the long hair covering her back looks good without makeup. She wants to unpack. "No." (That's me.)

We dress and dine in the hotel. It is not good to study a vacation menu and try to translate francs into dollars for melon, shrimp, broiled trout and sauteed veal. The dusty raspberries blush in a bowl of brandy.

The Mahoneys of Los Angeles join us. Or we join them. Jim is growing a reddish mustache. He is a one-time reporter from the Herald-Express, now Frank Sinatra's press agent. The difference is that he now has two suits and a bag of golf clubs.

Mrs. Mahoney—Patty—is bright, vivacious, brown-eyed, a giggler determined to see the bright good side of everybody. Jimmy is 20, grisly muscle from head to toe. He is on vacation from Santa Clara. Marilee is 18, dark, round, a kitten who calls me her "put-down man."

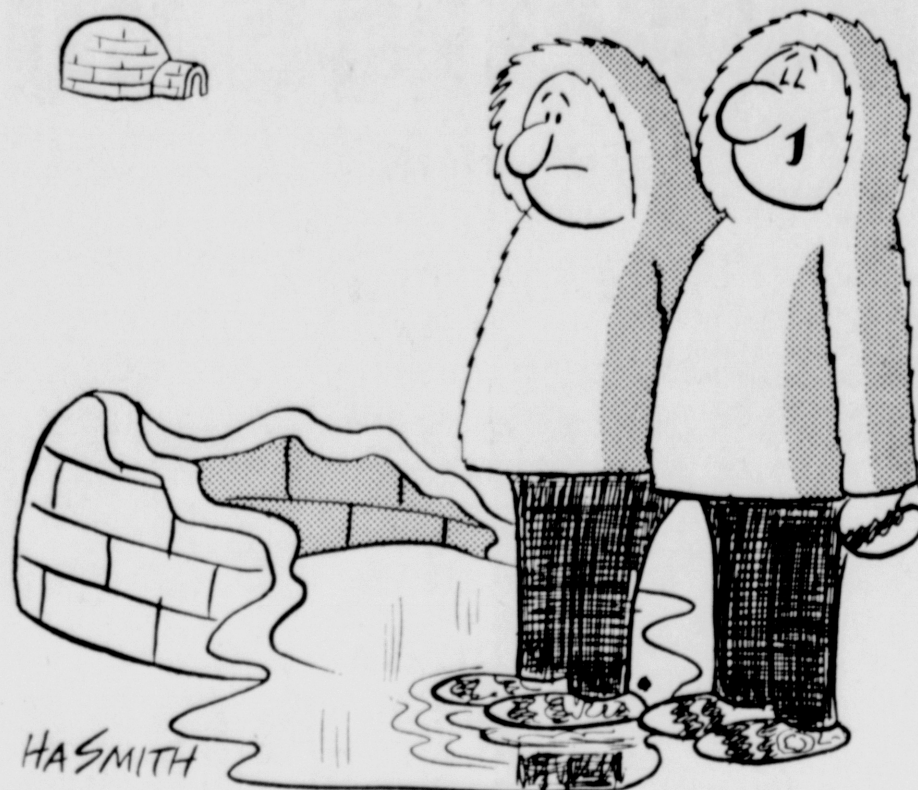

We eat everything. The body is rested, but Kelly and I are tired. Mahoney wants to walk around the block in the night mist. I say no. "Don't you like Switzerland?" he says. I nod. "It's a great place if you have a busted watch"...

Rare Tiger Cubs Said Doing Well

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Four rare Bengal tiger cubs have cut their teeth and doubled their weight in the five weeks since their birth June 20 at the Cincinnati Zoo.

Three of the cubs are white and the fourth is a normal tawny. All have genes to reproduce the rare white breed, a zoo spokesman said.

The cubs have all their teeth but their four back molars, the zoo reported. Tigers eventually have 28 teeth.

"How was the housewarming party?"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

They say the old-fashioned doctor no longer exists. I would like to relate an experience that happened to my husband. He suffered a stroke and needed rehabilitation.

A young doctor in our town took the time to do this himself because there is no big medical center where we live. Never have we known greater kindness and diligence. My husband recovered the use of his arm and leg so that now he is almost normal.

Mrs. J.W., Iowa

I am sure my readers and a great many physicians in general practice will be gratified by your letter. I truly believe that the family doctor is the unsung hero of modern medicine.

There are many areas in the country where specialists and "super-specialists" are not available. The family doctor takes on the role of treating every aspect of physical and emotional problems.

Patients who have suffered from strokes that leave them partially paralyzed are in need of rehabilitative medicine. In essence, rehabilitation medicine means restoring patients to physical and emotional well-being.

Recovery from any illness is complete only when the patient is again able to take his place as an active, competent, dignified member of society. When he once again is able to function at full capacity at home and at work, recovery is considered complete.

This is the objective that is hoped to be achieved by the new science of rehabilitation. Dr. Howard Rusk, of New York City, is considered the father of modern rehabilitative medicine. His students and disciples have spread throughout the world and are carrying out his basic principles of rehabilitation.

Every community should have the advantages of some form of rehabilitative medicine. Some of the most ingenious devices have been created to help people who have not completely recovered from their stroke or accident to be able to carry on daily activities with a sense of independence.

With physical therapy, stimulating massage, technical devices, drugs and psychological support many people who formerly would be permanently invalidated are now returned to serviceable and happy living.

Your community has good cause to be proud of the caliber of medical practice that you describe.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The new course for economic policy has been stated by President Nixon with the same force and conviction with which he announced his earlier programs.

This one will be based on patience and steadiness. Free markets will be emphasized. The spectacular will be scorned as bad economics, even if it is good publicity.

If this is so, it will represent an about-face from earlier attitudes of the administration and, in effect, is the sharpest and most direct criticism yet made of Nixonomics.

One of the most spectacular economic decisions of recent decades was the decision, an impulsive one in the eyes of even some of his advisers, to impose a price freeze in August 1971.

Following this were four phases of controls and decontrols, not in a steady sequence but marked by some impatience and unsteadiness, such as an abrupt return to a price freeze from June 13 to August 12, 1973.

Involvement of this sort, of course, is hardly synonymous with a laissez-faire, or hands off policy. The free markets that now are to guide the return to stability were suspended because they failed to do the job.

The current policy of budget and monetary restraint is, therefore, hardly a continuation of earlier approaches to the inflation battle, although there might be a few threads that weave their way continuously.

The President seemed even to concede an earlier lack of patience when he wrote The Economic Report of the President in February.

"There are at least four lessons we can learn from our past experience in combating inflation," he said, listing the first as "The importance of patience."

The other lessons named were 'The importance of the rest of the world, the importance of production, the importance of free markets.' In regard to the latter, he wrote:

"In the past several years, under the pressure of emergency conditions, we have made great, but temporary, departures from reliance on free prices and free markets. In special circumstances and for short periods these departures have been helpful." But, he added, "taken together, these experiences have confirmed the view that the free market is, in general, our most efficient system of economic organization."

And so, after some partially successful and some dismally unproductive flirtations with a controlled economy, the administration now seems ready to return to laissez-faire.

The problem for the administration now may be its ability to convince the public.

Strong Competition In Home Baked Goods

From the great number of exhibits in the Baked Goods Department at this year's County Fair there was little to indicate the sugar shortage or its cost. The cakes, pies and other baked delicacies looked and tasted as good or even better than last year.

With more women learning the art of cake decorating new names are placed on the winners list. Yeast bread and rolls found many contenders vying for the honors of one of the best loved of all home baked good items.

MR. AND MRS. MARION CHRISTOPHER LONG

Wedding Rites Officiated In Chillicothe Church

In a candlelight ceremony, Miss Beverly Sue Tyler and Mr. Marion Christopher Long were united in marriage in First United Methodist Church of Chillicothe.

The Rev. Irvin Lane officiated the 6:30 p.m., June 22nd, wedding for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Tyler, Chillicothe, and the son of Mrs. Daisy B. Long, 504½ S. Court St., Chillicothe, and the late Mr. Marion C. Long.

Mrs. Raymond Hinty was organist with Mr. Tim Barber as vocal soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sata peau accented with Alencon lace on the bodice and a satin ribbon at the waistline. The bishop sleeves featured three tiered capped sleeves of chantilly lace and ruffles framed the deep cuffs. Two rows of chantilly lace with strips of Venice lace trimmed the hemline. The chapel train was accented by flowing ribbons. The bride's shoulder length veil of silk illusion was caught to a headpiece of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. She also carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Preceding the bride to the altar was the maid of honor, Miss Debbie Whetstone. She wore a formal length yellow polyester gown with cap sleeves and lace trim. She carried a colonial basket filled with baby's breath and daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pam Tyler, Bourbonnais, Ill., the bride's cousin, Miss Karen Hendershot and Mrs. Joel Gerber. They wore pastel green gowns styled like the maid of honor's. White picture hats with pastel green ribbons completed their costumes. They also carried bouquets like that of the honor attendant.

A cousin of the bride, Brenda J. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ora A. Davis, Chillicothe, served as flower girl. Wearing a crown of daisies in her hair, she carried a bouquet like those of the other attendants. She wore a formal length gown of yellow polyester with lace trim and topped with a white eyelet pinafore.

Garden Club To Meet

Harford Renick and Miss Dehl Renick, Route 3, will entertain Circleville Garden Club at their home 7 p.m. Friday.

A brief business meeting will follow a tour of the Renick gardens.

Family Dinner Fetes Birthday

Mrs. A. J. Cook and daughter, Shauna, of Williamsport were hosts at a family carry-in dinner Sunday honoring the birthday of Mr. Cook.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cook Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cook Jr., Jorge, David and Elizabeth of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Carroll and Sue Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Trego, and James and Valerie Knapp of Clarksburg.

Don Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cook, Pamela and Tom Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cook and Steven of Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook, Lisa, Leslie and Brian of Grove City, and Jane Covault of Orient.

20th Annual Flower Show Held By Derby Garden Club

Mrs. Carol Grossman, Grove City, won Best of Show award at the 20th annual flower show of Derby Garden Club, July 26th, at the Derby Homecoming. Her award was for her own interpretation of "A Real Bargain." She also placed first in "Stained Glass" a religious interpretation and in "One Money Buys Them All" a design using two containers.

The Fellowship Hall of Derby United Methodist Church provided a beautiful setting in which to stage the show held July 26th and 27th as part of the Derby Homecoming. Mrs. Robert Scherer, OAGC judge of Circleville, judged the show and provided an interesting critique of the arrangements and specimens. She commented on the originality of the show theme and the excellent quality of entries. Sixty-six amateur arrangers entered the 11 classes whose titles depicted something characteristic of "A Day At The Auction" sponsored by Derby Garden Club members.

Sixty-nine gardeners entered the 13 specimen classes offered in the show. Derby Garden Club members responsible for staging the show were Mrs. Joe McCoy, Mrs. Steven Chenewehr, Mrs. Chaney Vance, Mrs. Rex Buller and Mrs. Miles Kahler. They were assisted by Mrs. Jim McPherson and Mrs. Dave Kohli. Other members cooperated as hostesses during the show hours and provided items for the White Elephant Sale and Educational Exhibit.

Winners in the show were: Patchwork-mass arrangement - 1. Rose Kahler; 2. Shirley McPherson; 3. Connie Patzer; Honorable Mention. Lois Rouff.

A Real Bargain-your own interpretation - 1. Carol Grossman; 2. Martha Buller; 3. Katie Lyday; Honorable Mention Shirley McPherson.

Collector's Item-one bloom of arrangers choice - 1. Rosemary Noble; 2. Carol Grossman; 3. Martha Buller; Honorable Mention. Katie Lyday.

One Man's Junk Is Another Man's Treasure-assemblages (modern, three dimensional arrangements of collected or found objects-not traditionally created) - 1. Katie Lyday; 2. Hilda Roberts; 3. Connie Patzer; Honorable Mention. Lois Rouff.

Stained Glass attracted 5 arrangers with 1st place going to Carol Grossman; 2. Freda McPherson; 3. Phyllis Kohli; Honorable Mention Hilda Roberts.

One Money Buys Them All-(2 containers making one design) - 1. Carol Grossman; 2. Freda McPherson; 3. Margaret Roberts; Honorable Mention Shirley McPherson.

Stabile class Going, Going, Gone attracted a lot of attention - 1. Shirley McPherson; 2. Katie Lyday; 3. Connie Patzer; Honorable Mention. Rose Kahler.

Sold To The Highest Bidder-(in a vetical manner) - attracted 6 arrangers. 1. Margaret Roberts; 2. Margaret Wilson; 3. Rose Kahler; Honorable Mention. Carol Grossman.

Values of green were designed for the Pay As You Leave class. Winners were 1. Katie Lyday; 2. Hilda Roberts; 3. Shirley McPherson; Honorable Mention. Phyllis Kohli.

You Bought It: Now Take It Home-(expressing motion) was a very interesting class. Winner was Hilda Roberts; 2. Katie Lyday; 3. Carol Grossman; Honorable Mention. Rose Kahler.

Hot Tired and Sweaty (using warm colors) - Four arrangers of the Derby Garden Club competed for honors. 1. Freda McPherson; 2. Rose Kahler; 3. Shirley McPherson; Honorable Mention. Jane Vance.

Specimen classes and winners were as follows: Tea Rose - 1. Connie Patzer; 2. Katie Lyday; 3. Melvin Spangler; Honorable Mention. Dessie Spangler.

Floribunda - 1. Katie Lyday; 2. Margaret Roberts; 3. Melvin Spangler; Honorable Mention. Rosemary Noble.

Grandiflora - 1. Rosemary Noble; 2. Margaret Roberts.

Gladiolus-white - 1. Connie Patzer; 2. Margaret Roberts; 3. Hilda Roberts; Honorable Mention. Freda McPherson.

Gladiolus - 1. Connie Patzer; 2. Hilda Roberts; 3. Margaret Roberts; Honorable Mention. Shirley McPherson.

Giant Zinnia - 1. Connie Patzer; 2. Dessie Spangler; 3. Shirley McPherson.

Cactus Zinnia - 1. Margaret Roberts; 2. Shirley McPherson; Honorable Mention. Hilda Roberts and Katie Lyday.

Three small blooms Zinnia - 1. Connie Patzer; 2. Dessie Spangler; 3. Shirley McPherson; Honorable Mention. Margaret Roberts.

More Rain Needed To Help Crops

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scattered showers and thunderstorms last week helped improve prospects for corn, soybeans and other spring-planted crops but general rains still are needed over much of the nation to pull 1974 crops out of a dryweather tailspin, says the Agriculture Department.

Officials said Tuesday in a weather review that corn growth continued to suffer last week in much of the Midwest, particularly in the western Corn Belt.

"Corn in western Iowa as well as dryland corn in Nebraska and Kansas has been hurt considerably by the prolonged dry spell in those areas," the report said. "Near normal temperatures along with showers and thunderstorms aided crop growth in parts of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin."

But the report cautioned that "more rain is needed" to rebuild depleted soil moisture and pull the corn crop out of danger. Topsoil moisture generally, the report said, is short from Nebraska to Ohio.

Development of the corn crop generally continues to lag behind last year, due to a large degree to heavy rains which delayed plantings last spring.

Although soybean development also lags and is suffering from dry weather in the western Corn Belt, the crop by last weekend appeared generally to be in fair to good condition, the report said.

"In Illinois, the crop is 45 per cent blooming, compared to 59 per cent in 1973 and 72 per cent normally," the report said. "Only 10 per cent of the Illinois acreage has pods set, versus 20 per cent in 1973 and the average of 42 per cent."

Dry weather also continues to deplete pastures in much of the plains and Midwest, except in parts of Illinois, North Dakota and Wisconsin, the report said.

"Cows are being culled and sold in some areas of Kansas where pastures and ranges have deteriorated," the report said. "Ranges are poor to fair in New Mexico and Arizona depending on where rain was received."

More than 6,500 caves have been discovered in Greece, 100 of which are considered to be of scientific and tourist interest.

OPEN HOUSE—The 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allison, 171 Lancaster Pike, will be celebrated with an open house Sunday in the Youth Center of the Church of the Nazarene. The couple was married Aug. 3rd., 1929, in Circleville by the Rev. O.L. Ferguson. Their children are: Guy Richard Allison, Charles Allison, Mrs. Gail (Ruth) Goldsberry, Mrs. Glenn (Doris) Pearce, Paul Allison, Mrs. Joe (Carolyn) Sheets, Gerald Allison and Mrs. Rodger (Judy) Binkley. The couple will greet their friends from 2-4 p.m.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Flat Chest Could Win By A Nose

DEAR ABBY: I just read a letter from that foolish girl who was miserable because she had a big nose and a small bosom.

Where has she been? Big noses and flat chest are IN! Look at Barbra Streisand. She's got a real beak on her, but after a while it sorta grows on you.

And how about Princess Ann? She doesn't have a little button nose either, but you don't see her getting it bobbed.

As for the small bosoms, just look at all the fashion models. Not one of them wears a bra, because they have nothing to put in it.

So tell all the girls who are unhappy with their big noses and small bosoms to cheer up. They're in style!

Ohio Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skies are to be mostly sunny today and Thursday as a weak high pressure ridge drifts across Ohio. Days will be warm and nights relatively cool, with afternoon temperatures climbing into the 70s and 80s. Nighttime lows will lower once again into the 50s with no precipitation forecast through Thursday.

Skies were clear and temperatures pleasantly cool Tuesday night and early Wednesday. Readings at dawn were in the 50s and 60s. No rain fell on the state Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Wildlife Expert Battles Ulcer

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Euell T. Gibbons, author of "Stalking the Wild Asparagus" and one of the nation's bestknown advocates of natural foods, has an ulcer.

It's not that he's been eating too many dandelion greens or drinking too much sassafras tea, the 63-year-old Gibbons hastened to explain after disclosing his ailment on Tuesday.

He said he has been taking too many aspirins for an arthritic condition and, according to his doctor, they caused the ulcer.

The sassafras or mitten tree produces leaves of three or four different patterns, all on the same tree.

Marion Jones Wins Sweepstakes In 1974 Grain Display

Marion Jones, who was a winner in several different classes of the vegetable and grain display, was also named the sweepstakes winner of the field corn show at the Pickaway County fair this year. A trophy is awarded annually for the winner of this title.

Farmers during last year's harvest were victims of an exceptionally wet season and this season has been just the reverse. Too little rainfall has presented problems but still the displays at the fair have been abundant and of spectacular quality despite the weather.

Ray Noecker, chairman of the grain, vegetable and gourd displays, had predicted a very good showing during the fair and he certainly was not proven wrong.

Awards were made according to maturity of the exhibit, seed condition, freedom from disease, uniformity and trueness of the type of variety displayed.

First place winners received $3; second place winners, $2; and third place winners, $1. Exhibits will be released to exhibitors at 9 a.m. Friday and the committee advises it is not responsible for theft or loss of entries.

Following is a list of first, second and third place winners in the 100 classes of the vegetable, gourd and grain display:

Stoutsville News

By MRS. A. B. WYNKOOP — 474-5922

The congregation of St. John United Methodist Church held a fellowship supper and reception in the church social rooms honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Roy W. Rose and family. A delicious meal and fine program were enjoyed by the capacity crowd.

Members of the St. John Youth Fellowship attended youth night at the Stoutsville Campgrounds on Monday night.

Jerry Conrad of near Circleville spent Monday evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad.

The eighth meeting of the Green Light 4-H Club was held at the home of Janice and John Doner on Wednesday evening. The president, Dean LaRue, presided over the out-of-doors meeting. Roll call was answered with each member reporting of his club project.

Pledges to the flags were led by Brent Smith and Doug Saum. As a community project, all members decided to offer their services to help at the construction of the Amanda-Clearcreek High School football fieldhouse which will be built by the A-C athletic boosters organization. A report of Beginner's 4-H camp was presented by Doug Saum. Mark LaRue served as counselor at the camp. The talent show was also discussed.

Auto Repair Costs Bring Court Suit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Atty. Gen. William Brown says his court suit against four Cleveland auto dealers is the first phase of a statewide investigation into what he says are overcharges for auto repair work.

"Upwards of $10 billion a year is being spent on automobiles in the United States, and I can safely say that much of this money is being squandered," Brown said Tuesday.

Named in the suits were Spitzer Ford Inc., C. Miller Chevrolet, Deacon's ChryslerPlymouth Inc. and Bob Kay Inc. American Motors.

The four said news of the suits came as a surprise and declined comment until they are notified officially.

The suits filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court ask for a permanent injunction against the dealers plus $5,000 daily fines against those who continue the alleged practices.

In addition, the suit seeks to have any money gained by the dealers by the alleged practices returned to customers.

Brown said 28 Cleveland area car dealers are being investigated and he expects further suits.

Northwest Ohio Needs Physicians

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—In two years, northwestern Ohio counties will need to double their present number of physicians, a survey by the Medical College of Ohio shows.

The survey, funded by a $25,000 grant from the Ohio Department of Public Health, was conducted in 19 counties.

The region included Allen, Auglaize, Defiance, Erie, Fulton, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Lucas, Mercer, Ottawa, Paulding, Putnam, Sandusky, Seneca, Van Wert, Williams and Wood counties.

About 1,170 physicians now serve the area, or one doctor for every 1,150 persons. The college said it used a recommended ratio of one doctor for 585 persons to conclude that 2,421 physicians will be needed in the region in two years.

In addition, 240 dentists are needed in addition to the 536 dentists now practicing in the area, the survey disclosed. This would maintain a 1-1,800 dentist-to-patient ratio.

The federal government estimates the population of the 19 counties will number 1.4 million in two years.

ALL WEATHER BANKING AT THE SAVINGS AUTO BANK MEMBER FDIC

The next activity of the club will be a family club trip to tour the Malabar Farms, home of Pulitzer Prize Winner Louis Bromfield, and the famous Kingswood Gardens which are considered the best in the United States.

Following the business session of the meeting, an enjoyable evening was spent with the members presenting stunts and skits.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Himes of New Florence, Pa. and Alma Glick of Circleville, sister of Mrs. Himes, and Leola Storts of Groveport visited with Rose Leist Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. May Rhymer and Gregory Peck were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartley and family.

Mrs. Chuck Strous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sark, left for Nuremberg, Germany on July 2. She will spend two years with her husband there who is in the United States Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCain and son Michael Jr. and Mrs. Leona Rife were Sunday dinner guests of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Kisler were Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Floyd and Jack Arledge visited Mr. and Mrs. Warren Evans at New Lexington, on Sunday.

Mrs. Edna Disbennett of Lancaster visited her mother, Mrs. Florence Rodgers on Monday.

Mrs. Guy Allison and Donna and Mrs. Herbert Floyd attended the summer celebration at Berlin Saturday.

Holy Communion will be held Sunday at the Trinity Lutheran Church.

A family get-together was held Sunday at Chotow Lake near London in honor of Mrs. Linda Miller of Rockledge, Fla. The event was held at the summer home of Floyd and Pat Campbell. Enjoying the fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Campbell, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell, Birmingham, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Campbell, Floyd Patrick III and Danielle, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Justus and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Justice, Kyle and Kendra of Circleville and Mrs. Nellie Campbell.

Trinity Lutheran Women's Circle met Sunday at the church. Mrs. Lucille Justice presided for the business session and Mrs. Dorothy Creager presented the topic for the month, "Talents Are For Giving." Nine members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas, Sanwich returned to their home in Wichita, Kan. Monday after spending the weekend with Mrs. Harry Metzger.

Mrs. Walter Hamill of Broomall, Pa. is visiting her mother, Mrs. Frank LeRoy and daughter Myra.

Mrs. Audry Spangler and Mrs. Harold Spangler of Ringgold visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rife and relatives on Wednesday.

MRS. GEORGIA SWEET, 896-2462

On July 14th, Captain and Mrs. William G. Vance and sons David and Jeff left Travis Air Force Base in California for Hickam Air Force Base in Honolulu, Hawaii where Capt. Vance, as a member of the Air Force Systems Command will spend a four-year tour of duty. Captain Vance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Chaney Vance of near Derby.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Bauhan of Columbus visited with Mrs. Charles Nance. The two were neighbors here for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sweet had as a guest on Saturday their little grandson, Kenneth Mason of Mt. Sterling.

On Saturday evening, Mrs. Charles Nance was the supper guest of Miss Helen Geesling.

A number of folks from this area attended the Laurelville Festival, and thrilled to the music of our own Westfall Marching Band; all report their performance was just great.

On July 21, the following group were among guests attending the wedding of Miss Carol Nance and Mr. Jim Rosing of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nance and daughter Diane, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kotz, son, daughter, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Norris, all of Columbus; Mrs. Charles Nance, Derby; and Mr. and Mrs. Bill James and two daughters of Sacramento, Calif.

The wedding was held at the Whitehall Methodist Church after which a reception followed, at the church. After a short wedding trip this past week, the couple are at home in Cleveland.

Cheers to Michael Bayes of Rt. 2, Orient, and a Westfall High School graduate on his appointment as Livestock herdsman in Wilmington College's Department of Agriculture.

Cheers also to Derby resident, Mrs. Phyllis Kohli, who was appointed a training administrator of City National Bank and Trust Company of Colum-

School Bus Training Course Set

The Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational Center will sponsor an 18-hour basic school bus driver training course to qualify employed drivers for the 1974-75 school year.

The class is organized to meet the training requirements of school bus drivers from local and city schools in the area.

The first class session will be held at Teays Valley High School, Aug. 19, at 6:30 p.m., in room 58. Sessions will be held three nights per week for two weeks. The course will be taught by Ken Riegel. Interested individuals should make an effort to register by Aug. 9, so that adequate class materials may be ordered.

A major problem of many school districts in the area is having enough qualified drivers, both regular and substitute. Individuals interested in driving for a school district, should contact their local superintendent. Enrollment in the training course can take place through the local superintendent or by calling the vocational center at 642-2550 and asking for an application.

Cable Splicer Trained By GTE

Kenneth D. Leach, 135 Pleasant, a cable splicer's helper, has received a certificate for completing a course in basic electricity at General Telephone Co. of Ohio's Technical Training School in Marion.

Leach has been with the company one year. He works in area exchanges in the company's Circleville district. He previously completed one other specialized course in the company's training program.

Income Tax Refunds Increase In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state auditor's office said today it has refunded more than $48.2 million to Ohio income taxpayers on 1973 returns, a $9.5 million increase over last year's refunds.

A spokesman for the auditor's office said the refunds went to 2.4 million Ohioans.

Racing Is Family Affair

The Pickaway County Fair brought back a Pickaway County harness racing family Tuesday.

The Jack Betts family has been campaigning their stable of 24 horses at The Meadows in Washington, Pa. this summer.

Jack is a veteran of over 20 years in the business, having cut his teeth on a sulky shaft while helping his uncle, the late E. E. Ham, train at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. He later worked for Porter Martin and the late George Van Camp in learning his profession.

He is passing on his knowledge of the harness racing trade to his oldest daughter, Carole, 18, who graduated from Logan Elm High School this spring.

Carole has been helping with the entire string but has also personally handled the training of Nancy's Delight, a horse owned by Gerald (Doc) Hanley, Star Painter and Hard Luck Jones.

Nancy's Delight won at The Meadows last week in 2:04.3, a new record for her.

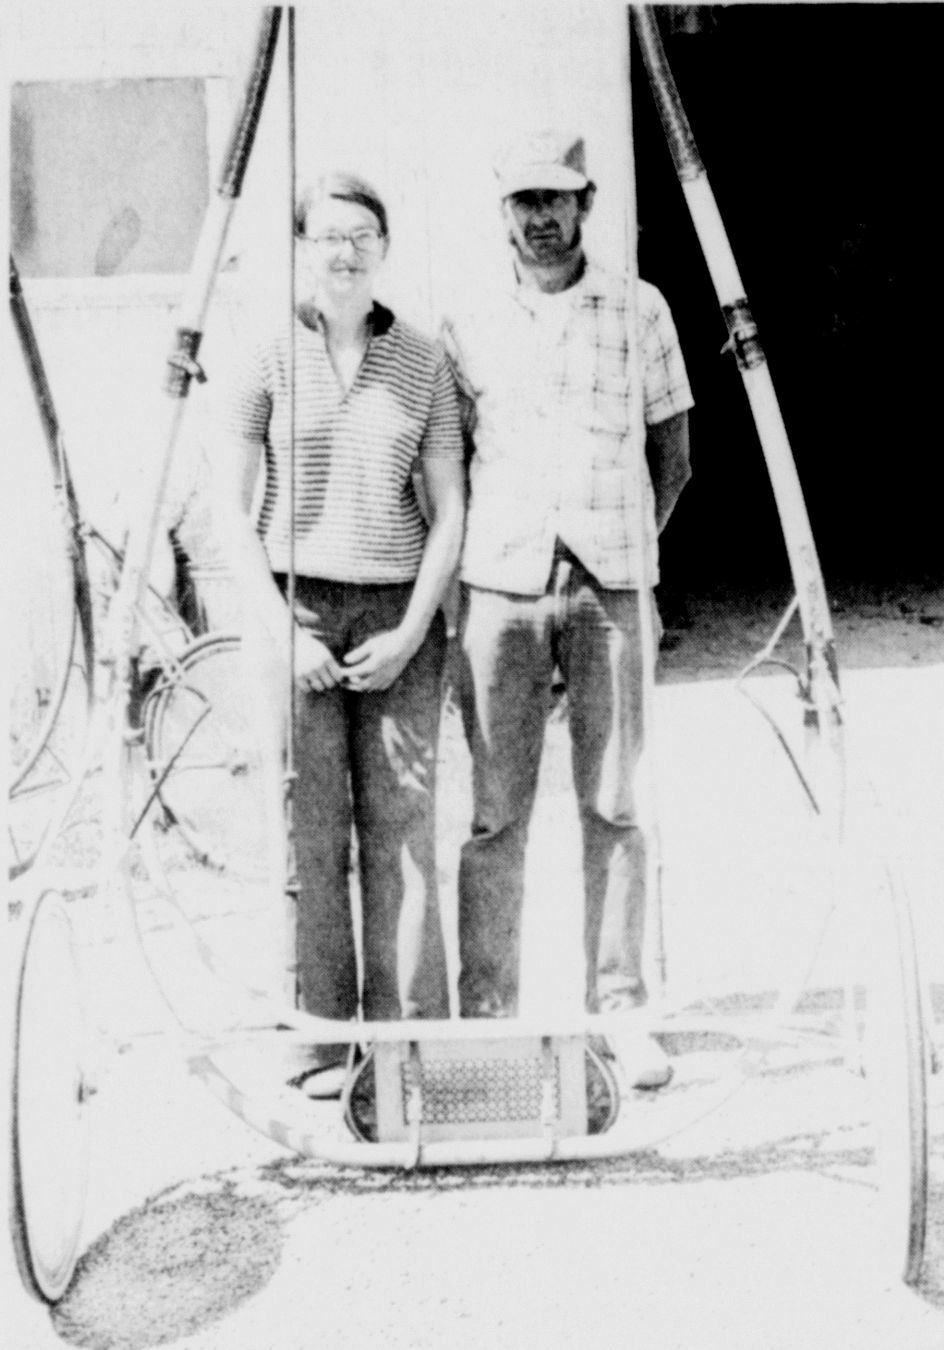

Hard Luck Jones is aptly named according to Carole's mother, Barb, having finished second a number of times but still a maiden. Fannie's Senator is the other pacer that Carole has been working with. Yesterday was the first start of the season for Fannie's Senator and she didn't fare too well, finishing last in both heats of the first race.

Carole has also had a hand in training the horses owned by Burt Book of Circleville which are in the stable.

Their stay in Circleville was brief and they headed back for Washington, Pa. today.

Although Carole loves horses and the excitement of the racing circuit, she hopes to attend college and major in education.

One of the better horses Jack has trained and driven during his career is I'm It who owns the track record at Scioto Downs for the mile and a quarter—2:36.

RACING PARTNERS—Carole Betts, who graduated from Logan Elm High School this spring, assists her father Jack with the care and training of his 24-horse stable. Jack campaigns at The Meadows in Washington, Pa., but was at the Pickaway County Fair for the Southeastern Ohio Colt Stakes.

Impeachment

both of which he had supported.

Rep. M. Caldwell Butler, R-Va., another backer of the first two articles, said Article III offended his sense of fair play.

"The adoption of Articles I and II will have placed the issue of whether the President should be removed before the Senate," he said. "We don't need any more articles."

Some Democrats agreed, notably Reps. Walter Flowers, D-Ala., and James R. Mann, D-S.C., who voted against Article III, and after the vote Rodino held a caucus of Democratic members to see if an agreement could be reached to call a halt. It could not.

Since the inquiry began last winter different members have staked out different areas of interest, and the secret bombing of Cambodia and Nixon's underpayment of his income taxes had a solid nucleus of support among the Democrats as possible impeachable offenses.

Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., who offered the Cambodian bombing article, said concealment of the bombing from Congress and the American people "presents indisputable evidence of impeachable conduct."

The debate over the article produced melancholy echoes of the debate over the Vietnam War, with most Republicans pointing out that Nixon inherited it from former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"You want to throw him out because he ended the war," said Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr., R-N.J. "Anybody else would get a medal, but you want to impeach him."

Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., said it was not the bombing itself, but the concealing of it from Congress and the falsifying of official records that warranted impeachment.

All 12 votes for the article were cast by Democrats. Nine other Democrats, led by Rodino, joined the 17 Republicans in defeating it.

Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, and Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., led the effort to add an article covering Nixon's taxes and the use of government funds to improve his private property at San Clemente and Key Biscayne to the impeachment resolution.

Mezvinsky said both criminal wrongdoing and abuse of presidential powers were involved in the back-dating of a deed to make valid a gift of pre-presidential papers, for which Nixon claimed a $576,000 income tax deduction.

After an investigation, the Internal Revenue Service disallowed the deduction and billed Nixon for $432,787 in back taxes.

"The President has set us a very sorry example," said Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa. "Even if it was technically legal, it was highly improper to claim such a huge deduction for his personal papers. But much as I deplore it, the question is, did he commit fraud?"

Mayne said he did not, but only followed the advice of tax experts.

The long inquiry began officially last October when impeachment resolutions were assigned to the committee. It really got going for the members last May 9 when the staff began presenting the evidence it had gathered.

It ended at 11:08 p.m. when Rodino rapped his gavel.

Taft Against Public Move By President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, said Tuesday he doesn't want President Nixon tried "on the courthouse steps" in case of impeachment.

Taft made the comment in rejecting a suggestion by House Republican leader John J. Rhodes that Nixon's best defense might be to present his case in a television and radio speech to the nation.

"The trial ought to be heard within the procedures in the House and Senate chambers," Taft said. "I don't want to try the case on the courthouse steps."

Taft said he would not state publicly his views on whether the President should be impeached, since he is a potential juror in the case.

Taft said he doesn't think the President should resign even if he is impeached by the House. He also told reporters he does not think congressmen will feel much of a political effect as a result of how they vote on impeachment.

The issues are so controversial that as long as constituents believe a congressman uses his conscience and best judgement, Taft said he thinks voters will be tolerant.

Investigate

Theft, Vandalism

A theft, an attempted theft and a vandalism complaint all involving automobiles were investigated by the Circleville Police Department Tuesday.

A battery was stolen from a car owned by Paul Valentine, 112 Fairview Ave. A car owned by Rick L. Good was entered and an unsuccessful attempt made to take the tape player.

Helen Webb, 174 Fairview Ave., reported eggs were broken on her car.

Residents Judge National Contest

Several Circleville residents recently participated in the judging of the twenty-seventh International Salon of Photographic and Speleological Art.

For the fifth consecutive year Mrs. Vera Saunders, Knollwood Village, judged the artwork division and Ned Schreiner, 213 E. Mound St., acted as judge for the photographic slides.

Presented by the National Speleological Society, entries will be on exhibit during August at the NSS Convention in Decorah, Iowa.

Edward Herel, 539 Garden Parkway, is chairman of the salon.

Rain Dance

Too Effective

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — "Tecumseh" the "medicine man" danced up a storm at the Buckskin Jamboree, causing the archery contest to be postponed and canceling the turkey calling event.

A headquarters booth was blown away by winds that came with the rain.

Even "Tecumseh's" split-cowhide outfit got soaked.

"Tecumseh," better known as Del Swee, said all he wanted to do was settle the dust, but said he's decided to soft-pedal his rain dances until the jamboree ends Sunday.

Ashville News

MRS. JOHN SABINE, PHONE 983-2086

The annual Cook Reunion will be held at the Ashville Community Park Shelter House on Sunday. Those attending are asked to bring their own table service and one or two covered dishes. See you there.

The Sunshine Sunday School Class of the Zion United Methodist Church met in the home of Ruth Harley last Friday evening. Assisting hostess was Pearl Fortner.

The president, Mrs. Hartley, opened the meeting. Members present sang the class theme song, "Count Your Blessings". Prayer was led by Helen Valentine and Med Eccard read the 101st Psalm for the scripture. The report of the secretary was given by Hazel Ward and the treasurer's report by Mary Costlow. Paying of bills consisted of the business meeting. Roll call was taken and dues paid by the members.

Following the meeting games were played with the prizes being won by Ernestine Craig and Mary Costlow.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses to Alleyn White, Wilna Wardell, Mary Kaiser, Frances Smith, Hazel Ward, Hazel Burns, Frances Grant, Ernestine Craig, Helen Valentine, Gladys Rush, Mary Costlow and Med Eccard.

Hostess for the August meeting will be Dorothy Dickinson.

Medrith, Dale and Carolyn Cline wish to thank their relatives, friends and neighbors for the lovely cards, flowers and expressions of sympathy shown them at the recent death of their husband and father, Leonard G. (Topsy) Cline. Also a special thanks to Pastor Zehner and Porter's Funeral Home for the service.

Steve Cook underwent surgery in Mercy Hospital in Columbus on Monday.

The 13th meeting of the TV Variety 4-H Club was held July 25 at the home of Gene and Dale List.

The meeting was called to order by the president Gene List. The American pledge was led by Jeff Tussing and the 4-H pledge was led by Sandra Good.

Twenty-one members answered roll call by naming a town in Ohio.

Over 7000 pop can lids were turned in. Prizes were awarded to the members turning in the most: first, Kerry Keller; second, Tad Cromley; third, Mike and Robbie Garner.

All members turned in their project book to be graded. After the meeting members worked on decorations for the fair booth.

It was decided to have a picnic for the members and their family August 25 at Deer Creek Dam. Everyone is to meet at 6 p.m. at the parking lot by the Dam. Refreshments were served by Mrs. List.

Mrs. Evelyn Davey and Mr. Eugene Fausnaugh were the honored guests at a family dinner on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris. The occasion marking their birthdays.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davey, Mary and Allen of Groveport, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Fausnaugh and grandsons Perry and Ronnie of Route 2, Ashville.

A tired but happy group of people arrived home about 1 a.m. Sunday morning after a day of enjoyment at Cedar Point. The trip is sponsored annually by the Zion United Methodist Church and this year, as usual, the bus was filled capacity by church members and friends.

The Harrison Township Emergency Squad made the following runs this past week: July 22, 10:12 p.m., transported Clark Neff of Millport to Berger Hospital, possible heart attack; July 22, 10:30 p.m., transported three victims from a traffic accident at Powell and Harrison Streets in Ashville to Berger Hospital; July 23, applied a splint for Mary McCain, Scioto St., Ashville, dislocated thumb, no transportation; July 24, bandaged laceration to the finger of Connie Edgington, Ashville, no transportation;

July 27, 7:10 p.m., transported Wilma Creager of Duvall to Mercy Hospital, leg injury; July 27, 7:42 p.m., called to the Conrad residence in Ringgold, party having difficulty in breathing, transported to Berger Hospital by private ambulance; July 27, 8:40 p.m., transported Nancy Spears of Nyking, W. Va., from south park on US Route 23 to Berger Hospital, possible heart attack.

The Volunteer Firemen made the following runs: July 22, false alarm to Reynolds Metals Company; July 22, gasoline washdown from accident at corner of Harrison and Powell Streets in Ashville, July 26, railroad tie on fire near water tower on Cromley St., no damage.

An Old Fashioned Ice Cream Social will be held this Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Hedges Chapel Church. This event is being sponsored by the Young People's Fellowship Class to help pay for the refinishing of the church pews. This is a "do-it-yourself" project undertaken by this class and with the help of other members of the church, it is hoped the project can be completed by the end of August.

Plenty of home-made ice cream will be featured at the Social, along with sandwiches, cookies, and cold drinks. A Country Store with home baked goods and canned goods, crafts and hand-made items will be an added attraction.

Music with an old-time flavor will be provided and old-fashioned dress is the order of the day. So don't miss out on the fun! Plan to join these young people for an old-fashioned Sunday afternoon of good food and good fellowship.

County Receives Gasoline Tax

Pickaway County will receive $12,327 of $9,618,419 distributed in gasoline taxes in July to Ohio's counties, townships, cities and villages, according to State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Each of 1,320 townships received $1,200 with each of the 88 counties receiving $35,000.

A total of $4,954,419 was allocated to 956 cities and villages on the basis of $1 per motor vehicle registered within their boundaries.

Gasoline excise tax receipts can be used only for street and roadway purposes.

Distribution in Pickaway County includes: Circleville, $8,201; Ashville, $1,373; Commercial Point, $177; Darbyville, $56; Harrisburg, $38; New Holland, $556; Orient, $537; South Bloomfield, $465; Tarlton, $258; and Williamsport, $666.

Quality Racing Offered At Pickaway Fair

IN THE STRETCH—Admiral Long, driven by Earl Purcell and owned by Darwin Edwards, Orient, speeds around the final turn for a win in heat eight of the first division pace. Admiral Long also won the first heat in a runaway.

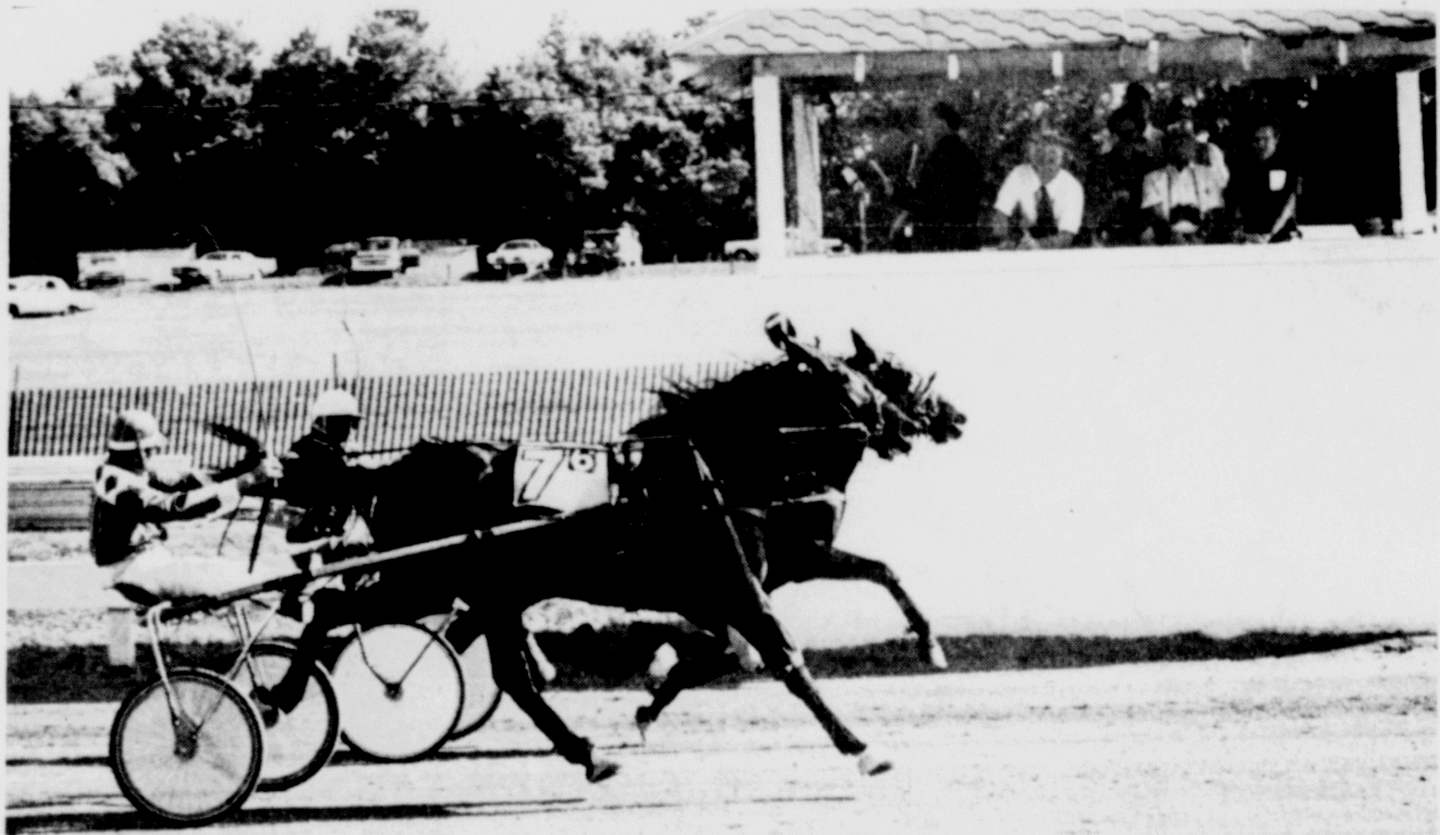

PHOTO FINISH—Miss Robtown, owned by Burt Cook and driven by Jack Betts of Circleville, stretches her neck to win the first heat of the three-year-old trot stakes. She edged Parisian Belle at the wire, in 2:10.1. Parisian Belle turned the trick in the second heat.

PRESENT BLANKET—Members of the speed committee of the Pickaway County Fair present a blanket donated by the Southeastern Ohio Colt Circuit to Mrs. Giles R. Clayton, Centerburg, whose husband owns and drove Rancheron to victory in the two-year-old pace stakes race. From the left are John Fissell, Mrs. Clayton, Glen McCoy, and Harlow Arledge.

An outstanding racing program was presented to Pickaway County harness fans Tuesday at the fair in which a quality field vied for purses totaling $9,826.

Four of the heats were "photo finishes" and the total differences between the first and second horses in these heats couldn't have been more than a neck.

Tuesday's action marked the first time in many years that stake races were held at the fair and judging by the size of the crowd both in the grandstands and around the rail the decision of the Fair's speed committee to join the Southeastern Ohio Colt Assn. was a wise one.

Three of the scheduled races were split into two divisions because of the number of entries.

Winning both heats of the first division of the first race, a pace for non winners of $3,000 carrying purses of $450 each division, was Admiral Long, owned by Darwin Edwards of Orient and driven by Earl Purcell. The first win was in 2:10 and the second in 2:11.

In the first race, Admiral Long took the lead in the first turn, toured the quarter in 31.3 seconds, gave way to Win Her Buckeye at the half but regained the lead in the stretch and won easily. Tullonia owned by Robert Russ of Piketon and driven by Omer Van Fossen was second and Win Her Buckeye owned by Wen Her Farms and driven by Terry Holton was third. The second trip of the race was nearly a carbon copy of the first except Blue Jacket owned by E. H. Blum of Laurelville and driven by Gene Young was third.

The second division of the first race saw Amorette, owned by Glen and Terry Ater of Clarksburg nip Star Painter at the wire in the first "photo" of the afternoon. Time was 2:11. Jack Betts drove Star Painter, owned by Wayne Burkey of Baltimore. Circle Fair Time, owned and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville finished third. The second trip raced in 2:10.2 of the race again was nearly a carbon copy except Chita B driven by Bryan Weaver and owned by Robert O. Callihan was third.

The second race on the program was a trot for non winners of $2,000 for a purse of $600.

It was another photo finish in the first trip with Floris Ann owned by Morris Holman of Thornville and driven by Terry Holton nipping Flinger, owned by Norman and Donna Anderson of Circleville and driven by their son Bryan Weaver, at the wire. Third was Mardell Express, owned by Mamie Harris and driven by Homer Harris. The time was 2:17.4, slowed undoubtedly by a collision in the first turn between Queen Kid and Dominion House. The field was coming into the turn a second time when drivers Dan Ater and Mike Thomas finally got their horses and carts clear of the track.

The third race was the 2-year-old pace stake and the purse in each of the two divisions was $2,224.

The first division winner was Rancheron owned and driven by Giles R. Clayton of Centerburg. His time in the first trip was 2:10.2 and in the second 2:09.4.

Finishing second the first time out was Josedale Portie owned by Mabel C. Junk of Mt. Sterling and driven by Dick Hackett. Our Baby with Jim Arledge in the sulky and owned by Hill and Ida Long of Blackfork was third. In the second trip All Ohio owned by Ronald T. Gaines with Don Spence driving was second and Josedale Portie was third.

The second division of the pace saw Niknar owned by David and Scott Rankin of Hopewell with David Rankin up, pace the mile in 2:10.2 while Betsy Hill owned by Tony Mampieri and driven by Russ Baldwin edged out Hoosier Buckeye owned by Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Maloon and driven by Jim Arledge for second.

The second trip of the race went in 2:10 but it was Betsy Hill ahead by a nose at the wire with Niknar finishing second and King Dinny owned by Ralph Stir Jr. of Ashville and Marguerite Shelton of Circleville and driven by Porter Martin finishing third. Although eight horses went postward in the first heat of this race, four were scratched for the second. The scratches were Hoosier Buckeye, Su Du Two, Fantasy Butler and Heraclytis.

The fourth race was a 3-year-old trot stake with purses of $1,959 for the first division and $1,919 for the second division.

Driver Jack Betts took Miss Robtown, owned by Burt Cook of Circleville, to the head of the pack early and led all the way, fighting off a bid at the wire by Parisian Belle, owned by Garrett S. Claypool of Chillicothe and driven by Mike Zeller. The time was 2:10.1. Dorothy Belle owned by E. P. and J. R. Rhodes of Columbus and driven by Carl Gorsuch was third.

The second trip saw the first and second horses reverse the finish. Parisian Belle won in 2:12 with Miss Robtown finishing second. Dixie Mistress owned by Appalachi Farms Inc. and driven by Dick Brandt Sr. finished third in the second heat.

Chet Dewbre reined Arthur's Freight owned by R. D. and Mildred Lowe of Malta to heat wins in 2:10 and 2:09.1. Big Bomb owned by Bennet Junk and James Brown and driven by Brown was second in both races and Nomad Hanover owned by John D. Creighton and driven by Tom Sells was third.

Post time today is 4:30 p.m. There will be 10 heats. First race is a pace for a purse of $600 for non winners of $2,500. The second race for non winners of $5,000 is a pace for $700.

The third race, split into two divisions, is the 3-year-old pace stake of the Southeastern Ohio Colt Circuit. Purse of both divisions is $2,164.

The fourth race is the 2-year-old trot stake of the Southeastern Ohio Colt Circuit carrying a purse of $3,988.

Archery Match Held Sunday

The Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. held an archery match Sunday with 17 archers competing.

Pete Noble won first place in the sighted class with Charlie Williams of Jackson Bowhunters taking second. Dave Massie finished first in A class bow and Verland Riley was second.

B class was won by Mick Riley while Jack Clark took second place honors. The club will hold two shoots in August on the second and fourth Sundays.

The archery division of the Farmers and Sportsmen is seeking new members. The archery course and other facilities at the club grounds located on Route 22 east are open to members only.

PCC Ladies Loop

Team 1 and team 4 took 11 points each to tie for first place honors in this weeks play of the Pickaway Country Club Ladies League.

Members of team 1 are Phyllis Williams, Betty Estes, Marjorie Porter, and Clara Burton. Members of team 4 are Miriam Young, Helen Jacobs, Louise Story, and Gennie Hritz.

Team No. 2 Leads Tuesday Golf League

Team No. 2 scored 18 points in the Tuesday Men's Golf League at Pickaway Country Club to lead the league after two weeks of play with a total of 31½ points.

Members of team No. 2 are: Dick Wilcox, Ken Williams, Jim Butler, Sam Sberna, Carson Scheaffer, Dick Theis, Sid Sanders and Bob Rickerd.

Team No. 1 is in second place in the standings with a total of 30½ points while Team No. 6 is third with 29½.

Low gross honors were shared Tuesday by Dick Wilcox and Larry Oiler. Both toured nine holes in 37 strokes. Low net was a 30 by Walter Hall.

There have been six triple dead heats in harness racing. The most recent took place May 24 at Henderson, Ky.

Tigers Defeat Red Sox

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
AP Sports Writer

Detroit Manager Ralph Houk thinks rookie catcher Tim Lincecum's attempted pickoff would have been a heck of a play. But it wasn't and Boston Manager Darrell Johnson says he doesn't expect to see it ever again.

"I guess you might call it inexperience, but this should happen only once," Johnson said after the Red Sox lost 7-5 to Detroit when two runs scored on Blackwell's wild throw with two out in the ninth.

In other American League games, the Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles 8-6, the Minnesota Twins topped the Kansas City Royals 7-3, the Chicago White Sox edged the California Angels 3-2 in 10 innings, the Milwaukee Brewers swept the New York Yankees 3-2 in 10 innings and 4-0 and the Oakland A's trounced the Texas Rangers 11-3.

The Red Sox went into the ninth leading 5-3 when Gary Sutherland singled and Al Kaline homered. Then with two out and Jim Northrup, who had doubled, on third and pinch-hitter Ben Oglivie on first, Oglivie broke for second.

Blackwell, pressed into service a month ago when Carlton Fisk suffered a knee injury, faked a throw to second and then threw wildly past third, allowing both runners to score. It was Boston's fifth error.

Tiger center fielder Mickey Stanley suffered a broken bone in his right hand when he was hit by a pitch in the fourth inning.

Indians 7, Orioles 2

The Indians built a winning 7-2 margin with five runs, only two of them earned, in the seventh. In that inning, the Orioles committed three errors, two by first baseman Boog Powell, who also had a single bounce off his glove.

Twins 7, Royals 3

Kansas City shortstop Fred Patek also had a rough time in the field, committing three errors. Runs scored on two of them. Harmon Killebrew and Larry Hise homered for the Twins.

White Sox 3, Angels 2

Nolan Ryan of the Angels gave up only six hits, but one was a two-run homer by Bill Melton in the second inning and another was a bases-empty homer by catcher Ed Herrmann in the 10th.

Brewers 3, Yankees 2

With two on and two out in the 10th, George Scott raced home with the winning run as Mike Hegan beat out an infield single.

In the nightcap, rookie Kevin Kobel, 1-8 against the rest of the league, made it 3-0 against the Yankees, shutting them out on a four-hitter.

A's 11, Rangers 3

Reggie Jackson and Gene Tenace led the Oakland rout with two home runs each. Duke Sims homered for the Rangers.

Co-captains of Michigan State's 1974 football team are fullback Clarence Bullock of Fort Wayne, Ind., and tackle Jim Taubert of Weymouth, Mass.

Reds Drop Tilt To Astros

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—“We’ve got to get it straightened out,” said Cincinnati Reds Manager George “Sparky” Anderson Tuesday night after his team dropped its second game in a row.

The Houston Astros took the measure of starter Fred Norman 8-4 as the Reds continued to slip off the pace in the National League Western Division. Cincinnati has now dropped

Portland Storm Seeks New Defensive Backfield Strength

By HOWARD SINER
AP Sports Writer

Job security has been mighty tough to come by in the past weeks for Portland Storm defensive backs.

Coach Dick Coury is looking for a new combination and wants to avoid another embarrassment tonight such as the one suffered when the Storm first met Philadelphia in their World Football League opener.

Philadelphia’s only victory came against Portland, a 33-8 romp that began a thus far winless season for the Storm.

In their first meeting, the Portland secondary allowed Philadelphia quarterback Jim “King” Corcoran to complete 21 of 38 passes for 227 yards and two touchdowns.

The first change came with the immediate cut of defensive back Clancy Williams, a nine-year National Football League veteran who had been one of Portland’s “name” players. Ed Washington, a rookie from Long Beach State, also was placed on waivers.

Rookie safeties Charles Hinton and Ray Sherman have been replaced by Tom Oberg and Frank Andruski, a pair of Canadian Football League players. Only rookie Ed Bishop remains, and he’ll be at strong safety—not cornerback.

In other WFL games tonight, Birmingham is at Detroit, Florida travels to Houston, and New York hosts Jacksonville. The nationally televised contest Thursday night features Southern California at Memphis.

The battle tonight between the Birmingham Americans and the Detroit Wheels should prove to be an offensively explosive contest. Birmingham, 3-0, takes the best WFL scoring attack—33.7 points a game—to Detroit for the contest with the Wheels, 0-3, who have the new league’s worst scoring defense—29.3 points a game.

The Americans, however, have given up an average of 385.7 yards per game, ranking last in the league in team defense, and quarterback Bubba Wyche of Detroit has completed 45 of 91 passes for 630 yards as the WFL’s leading aerial threat.

Bengals See Top Passing Performance

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals coaches believe they can have one of the best passing games in the National Football League this year if the strike ends and if their receivers stay healthy.

“If only we could get everybody back,” mused quarterback-receiver coach Bill Walsh as NFLPA picketers marched outside Tuesday.

Coach Paul Brown announced earlier that quarterback Wayne Clark, brought in trade from San Diego, will start the first exhibition game Saturday night against the Miami Dolphins. Starter Ken Anderson, meanwhile, crossed the picket line to report as did most of the regular receivers except Isaac Curtis.

Tribe Tops Baltimore; Wins 8-2

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians moved back on the winning track Tuesday night, downing the Baltimore Orioles 8-2 and nudging to within one and one-half games of the American League East-leading Boston Red Sox, who lost to Detroit.

The Indians scored five runs in the seventh inning with the score tied 2-2. Three Baltimore errors paved the way for the flurry of scoring. Three Cleveland runs were unearned.

The Orioles rallied for four runs in the eighth to pull within one point of the Indians, but Cleveland held on and scored again in the ninth for the win.

Dick Bosman, who has a 6-11 lifetime mark against Baltimore, notched his fourth victory of the season without a defeat. He was relieved in the eighth by Tom Buskey.

Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte, asked if Baltimore’s late rally caused him to break out in a nervous sweat, replied, “Whew, that’s not the word for it. We almost gave the game away.”

Cleveland’s best hit of its run-packed seventh inning was a two-run single by Charlie Spikes. It was the only hit of the inning to clearly make the outfield. Baltimore errors supplied the rest.

cleanup spot in the lineup by Houston Manager Preston Gomez.

“It don’t make no difference to me where I hit,” said May, who lives in Cincinnati. “The same pitcher is out there.”

“But I’m a different type hitter against Freddie. I give up power. If you go for the home run against him you’re dead. He can make you look like a fool.”

Norman, who was tagged for Cesar Cedeno’s 22nd home run and rookie Cliff Johnson’s sixth, said “I didn’t feel right out there. My screw ball wasn’t that good and I had to rely on the fast ball.”

Norman, 10-10, went to the showers in the fifth inning having given up seven hits to the Astros whom he beat three times this year.

John Bench hit a two-run homer in the first inning. Johnson’s homer came in the second, then May doubled to make it 3-2 in the third. May doubled in another run in the fifth and scored on Bob Watson’s single. Cedeno homered in the sixth and Don Wilson’s two-run single in the seventh ended the scoring for Houston.

Tony Perez hit his 19th homer to tie Bench for the Reds’ team record in the seventh.

Reggie Smith Jr., age six, likes to see home runs—especially when they’re hit by his daddy.

On the other hand, the Philadelphia Phillies have seen quite enough, thank you.

The senior Smith, St. Louis’s slugging outfielder, slammed two home runs and a triple Tuesday night, driving in all four Cardinals runs in a 4-3 victory over the first-place Phillies, which moved St. Louis to within one game in the National League East.

Reggie Jr. has been traveling with his father on the Cards’ current road trip. The tyke complained that his dad wasn’t hitting enough home runs; Smith hadn’t homered since July 1.

After the win, the Cards’ fourth straight and eighth in nine games, Smith said that during extra batting practice he discovered he was dropping his shoulder and corrected it.

Smith is batting .318. Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings; the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the New York Mets 6-0 before losing the second game of a twin bill 4-3; the San Francisco Giants erupted for three runs in the 12th inning and beat the Atlanta Braves 6-3; the Houston Astros defeated the Cincinnati Reds 8-4, and the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the San Diego Padres 8-0.

Expos 4, Cubs 3

Mike Jorgensen’s two-run single in the 10th inning gave the Montreal Expos a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Expos had loaded the bases in the 10th and Jorgensen greeted reliever Oscar Zamora with his game-winning hit.

Pirates 6-3, Mets 0-4

Pittsburgh’s Jim Rooker blanked the Mets on five hits in the opener, but New York’s Jerry Koosman came back to stop Pittsburgh on five hits in the second game.

Richie Hebner singled twice, knocked in one run and scored two for the Pirates in the opener. In the second game, Cleon Jones doubled home Jerry Grote with the winning run in the eighth.

Giants 6, Braves 3

Chris Speier’s bases-loaded double in the 12th inning provided the winning margin for the Giants, who tied the game in the ninth on a pinch-homer by Dave Kingman.

Piranhas Top Hilltop

The Circleville Piranha Swim Team swamped Hilltop 44½ to 101½ last night for their sixth straight win.

The Piranhas won 16 of 18 relay races and 43 of 48 individual events.

Mary Romero and Jeff Davies paced the victory with three wins each.

Tonight the Piranhas travel to Newark in quest of an undefeated dual meet season and their third Mt. Pleasant Swim League title in five years.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): In dealings with others, be sure to note their reactions. The right word at the right time could be a big factor in putting over your ideas.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Venus favorable. Invent, improvise, build anew where it will help you to take a forward step. Your incentive and ingenuity should be keen.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Stellar influences indicate some indecisiveness. Counter by urging yourself into positive action. Handle each situation as it arises, evaluate each on its own merits.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Extra care needed in financial matters, but do your own thinking about them. Advice from others could lead you off on false trails.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Routine activities should run without many hitches, yet there may be certain interruptions in new ventures. Don't be dismayed. With careful study, you can cope.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Do not take a position for or against any issue until sure of your ground. Analyze glamorous sounding propositions; they could be misleading in details.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Keep arrangements flexible. Some unexpected changes possible. On the personal side, a business associate may show a romantic interest in you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Avoid risks and impulsiveness. Make no hasty decisions and curb spending. Be especially careful to analyze your budget if making travel plans.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Personal relationships under excellent influences. An advantageous social contact can now be firmly consolidated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Accent in now on your home. A fine day for easing household problems, fund-raising for domestic improvements.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Your planetary set-up highly auspicious. A good day for pushing ahead with important issues — especially those involving business and finance.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Stimulating influences. An unexpected happening in the forenoon could lead to an unplanned — and profitable — trip.

YOU BORN TODAY are a combination of idealism and practicality; have been endowed with a magnetic personality and unusually strong gifts of leadership. You take yourself seriously — sometimes so seriously that you become TOO self-assured, even arrogant in your attitude toward "lesser lights." Try to tone down such feelings since they could lead to self-defeat. Highly versatile, there are many fields in which you could achieve outstanding success — most notably, however, in the legal profession, which could lead you into politics or statesmanship, or in literature, where your sense of the dramatic would best evidence itself in novels or plays. Other areas which are suited to your capabilities: Music, the stage and science (especially chemistry and pathology). Birthdate of: Herman Melville, author of "Moby Dick"; Yves St. Laurent, Fr. fashion designer; Jack Kramer, tennis star.

Anderson Victorious In Pistol Shoot

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)— Army S.Sgt. Hershel Anderson scored a record total 889 with 51 x-ring hits in the .45-caliber event as he walked off with his second straight national pistol championship Tuesday.

The marksman from Tracy City, Tenn. bettered the record set ten years ago by T.D. Smith of San Antonio, Tex., who fired 889 with 42 x-ring hits.

Celebrity Golf Clash Set At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A celebrity golf tournament, sponsored by Taylor University, has been scheduled at Highland Golf and Country Club here, Aug. 29, to help raise funds for a $900,000 physical education building.

The building now is under construction on the Upland, Ind., campus and will replace Maytag Gym, dedicated by evangelist Billy Sunday in 1928. The old gym will be used as a chapel-auditorium.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Although millions of TV viewers have seen the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment debates, a major star of 1973's televised Senate Watergate hearings admits he's not often among them.

The reason, says Sen. Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn., is that he's been busy traveling in his state, talking with constituents and generally sampling public opinion for the past week.

"I've watched very little of the debate," said the vice chairman of the Senate Watergate committee. "I saw some of the first day's considerations, but I haven't seen much since that time."

Still, he added, his viewing has left him with a pretty fair impression of the House committee: "I think the members obviously are anguishing a good bit over the thing. They give the impression of being genuine and sincere. They're well-grounded in the facts."

Sen. Sam Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate committee, declined to discuss any impressions TV coverage of Judiciary debate might have given him.

Baker, interviewed by phone from his office in Huntsville, Tenn., 50 miles northwest of Knoxville, was asked how he felt live national TV coverage affected the proceedings of either committee.

Of his own committee, he said, "it probably had the effect of inducing people to ask questions they otherwise might not have asked, even repetitious questions."

He said he couldn't comment on the House committee because he's unfamiliar with its usual procedures and because its members haven't had to contend with the problem of live TV coverage before.

"So who knows what effect television has?" he asked. "But my guess is the effect of TV, in terms of the grandstanding potential, is a lot less than the good it does in terms of the public's right to know."

Is there anything about TV coverage of the Watergate hearings he now wishes had been done differently?

The only change he'd like, he said, would be adoption of the Judiciary Committee's policy barring commercial breaks during any part of actual debate. No such bar existed during the Watergate hearings.

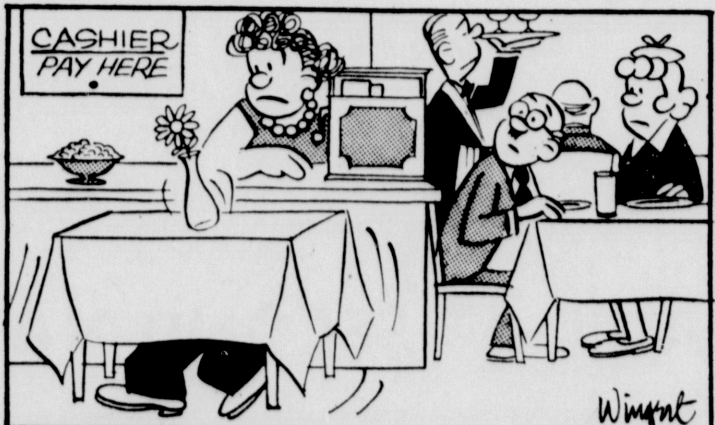

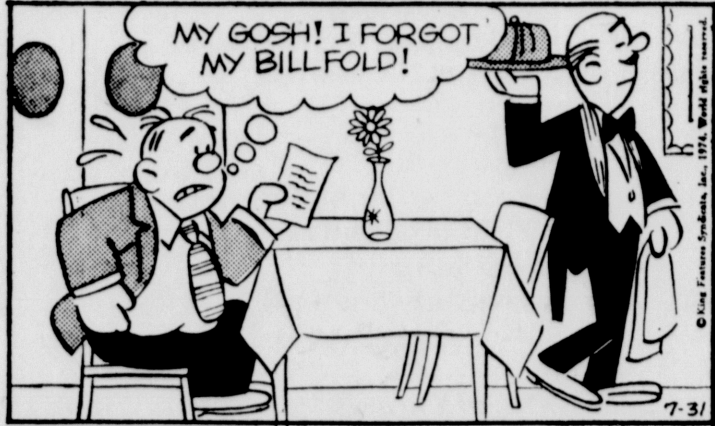

Baker said he favored live TV coverage of a Senate impeachment trial of President Nixon, should that result from House action.

"I think it would be a great travesty if it were not done," he said, adding that he thinks the Senate almost certainly will permit live TV coverage of the possible trial.

Does he think such nationally televised coverage would affect the outcome of the trial?

"No, I don't," Baker said without hesitation. "I think it's far too important and I think the members of the Senate feel the importance of the event too much to suggest that television coverage would have any affect. I don't think it will."

SECOND NATIONAL OPENS TONIGHT. FOREVER.

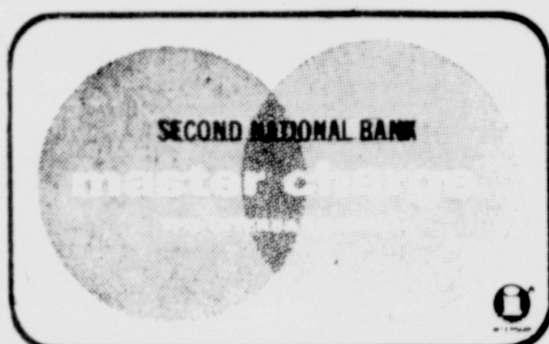

At seven this evening, our Anytime Bank opens and will stay open forever!

You'll be able to bank at any hour, day and night, any time of the year. Our Anytime Bank is opening at our Main Office, 136 East Main Street, right here in downtown Circleville. We at Second National want you to always be within easy reach of almost any banking service. It's another convenience first from Second National for ALL of Pickaway County. And better yet you can transact business at more than 34 other locations around Ohio, and even more locations are on the way.

An Anytime Bank is no mere cash machine — as you can see by its left-side keyboard. Besides enabling you to withdraw money from your Second National Checking Account and Savings Account, our Anytime Bank lets you deposit money into either account, transfer funds from one account to another, make loan payments — even get a Master Charge cash advance.

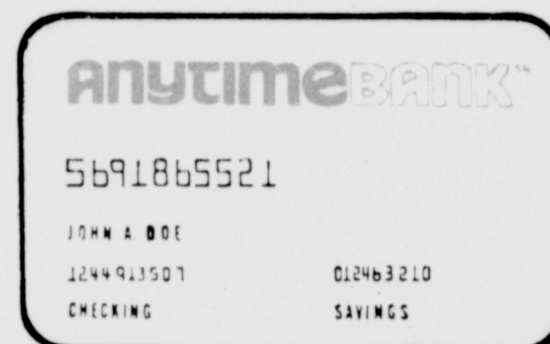

It offers a total of eleven different banking services. Each easily transacted in about a minute. Anytime you need them.

All you need is The Second National Master Charge card with the stripe on the back. Or you can use our new Anytime Bank Card.

With either you'll receive a Personal Identification Code. You identify yourself by tapping in this six-digit number on the machine's right-side keyboard. The ID Code is for your protection; known only by you and the bank.

If you're not yet prepared to bank any time, stop by either of our two offices, 136 East Main Street, or 1210 North Court Street. Apply for your Second National Master Charge or Anytime Bank Card. And, if you haven't already done so, open a Second National Checking Account and Savings Account. Then you'll have what it takes to take care of most any banking need, anytime.

Second National's Anytime Bank. Now that it's open, Second National will never close!
